Build culture together

Build a company culture that drives employee engagement and team performance.

Motivate Team Members

Take data-driven action with culture plans to increase productivity and decrease employee turnover.

Track results and learn what works

Measure against your past survey results and analyse the health of your company culture over time.

surveys

Culturly helps to measure employee engagement by sending anonymous daily pulse checks and weekly surveys that can be answered by everyone in seconds within Slack or Microsoft Teams.

Simply select from our library of research-backed surveys designed by organizational psychologists. Use also your own questions to understand how employees feel across a variety of topics such as sense of belonging, company pride, and quality of leadership

Understand the results and your culture better than ever

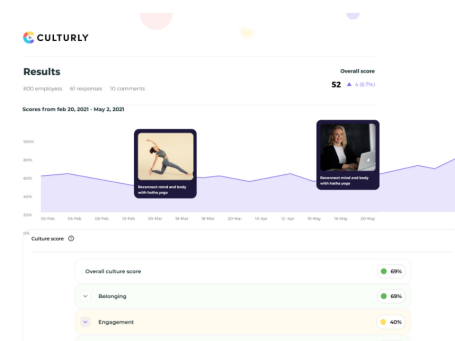

Culturly helps to measure the overall company culture, employee happiness and over time.

Managers and people-teams can use a clever dashboard to identify challenges within their company, track progress and benchmark results against organizations from their industry.

See results from culture plans in real- time and only do what really works

Using the ongoing employee engagement surveys and clever Culturly analytics, you can track the results of your culture plan in real- time. Whether you are treating your team with a fitness & sports culture package, an ongoing how-to-work-remote-plan or a mix of skill-building events, the Culturly analytics help to understand the impact of your actions in real-time. With Culturly, you only do what really works.
